PRIMARIES TO BE HELD IN 7 STATES TUESDAY

Official Washington Watching keenly as Voters Decide of a Host of Candidates.

GREATEST PRIMARY DAY OF SUMMER

U. S. O. P. Senators' Seats in Peril in Three States—Pendexter, Lodge, Townsend.

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Voters in seven states go to the polls tomorrow to nominate Senators, Congressional and state candidates in the greatest single primary day in the summer campaign.

Five seats in the United States Senate, forty-nine in the House of Representatives and a host of state and municipal offices are involved in the balloting that will take place in Arizona, Colorado, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Washington, Vermont and Michigan.

Chief interest in the national capital centers about the Senatorial contests in Massachusetts, Washington and Michigan, where the seats of three prominent Republican Senators are in jeopardy—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, minority leader; Senator Miles Poindexter, ranking member of the Naval Affairs Committee, and Senator Charles E. Townsend, the good roads champion of the Senate.

Not so Hot Elsewhere. In other states the controversies are less keen. In Arizona Senator Henry P. Buhst (D.) will be re-nominated by his party without opposition. In Vermont Senator Carroll S. Page (R.), a retiring voluntarily, and Representative Frank L. Greene, one of the Granite State's two Republican Congressmen, will also be re-nominated without opposition.

In Louisiana and Colorado only Congressional and State candidates are to be nominated.

Lodge, Poindexter and Townsend all have opposition—the latter two having stiff fights on their hands to be re-nominated. In Massachusetts Senator Lodge is opposed by Joseph Walker, a former Speaker in the Massachusetts house of Representatives. Walker is characterized by political observers in Washington as "strong, but not dangerous."

There are, however, no less than 4 avowed Democratic candidates—William A. Gaston, retired banker; Sherman L. Whipple, Boston attorney; John H. Hickok, a former Democratic candidate for Governor, and Dallas Sharpe, a Boston university professor, who endorses Prohibition and the League of Nations.

Lodge Under Fire. All are anxious for the job of facing Senator Lodge at the polls next November, because the Democratic Party, nationally, is planning to train its heaviest guns on Massachusetts to defeat the man who led the League of Nations fight against Woodrow Wilson.

In Michigan there has been a strenuous primary campaign. Three candidates are seeking Senator Townsend's scalp—John H. Emery, former national commander of the American Legion, Representative Pat Kelly, who led the first for a little navy in the House this Spring, and Herbert

In addition, Mr. Kenney wired: "Not necessary to send sheriff; will go peacefully and glad of chance. Tell Jim Sturgis, Bill Switzer and the rest of the bunch I'll be there."

REBUKED BY MOTHER, GIRL LEAPS TO DEATH

POTATO GROWERS WILL ORGANIZE; BRANDED SACKS TO BE USED

All Potatoes Handled Will be Certified According to the Oregon Law.

The Western Mountain Seed Growers' Association, the first of its kind in this country, is to be organized in the near future, according to plans formulated yesterday when Fred Benson, county agent, met with Western Mountain potato growers.

The association will include growers residing at Basket, Reed & Hawley, Weston, Reservation, and Wild Horse Mountains. It will secure a trademark for potatoes and use branded sacks. An extensive advertising campaign is planned. A prize of $3 is to be given the person submitting the best trademark.

All potatoes handled by the association will be certified according to the Oregon law and graded according to U. S. Standards. The use of the label and branded sacks will prevent illegitimate sale of seed. According to the new certification potatoes must be graded and sorted before final inspection.

The organization committee consists of Will Hall, W. L. Rayburn, J. W. Bowers, C. L. May and E. E. Tucker. Mr. Hall and three other growers who recently visited Yakima growers, state that the latter are much pleased with Umatilla county grown seed.

A. C. Experiment Station.

MRS. HARDING'S CONDITION IS IMPROVED TODAY

Surgical Operation if Necessary Would Be Simple; Reports Issued Cheerful.

PRESIDENT TOOK TWO HOUR CONSTITUTIONAL

Patient Has Increased Her Ability To Throw Off Effects of the Poison.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(U. P.)—Brigadier General Sawyer personally feels that "Mrs. Harding's chances of recovery from the present attack are extremely good."

The president took a two hour constitutional on the White House grounds today with Will Hays. This was the first time President Harding has been outside the mansion since his wife's condition became grave. Hays said that both the president and Mrs. Harding were more cheerful today. The latter seemed stronger.

Operation Simple

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(U. P.)—The surgical operation on Mrs. Harding, if necessary, is a simple one of tapping the kidney to drain off poison. Dr. Charles Mayo will personally perform the operation if it is decided necessary.

Bulletin Issued

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(U. P.)—Secretary Weeks after an early call at the White House cheerfully reported that Mrs. Harding had the best night since her illness became critical. The official White House bulletin at 10:15 a. m. says: "Elimination increased, referring to the patient's increased ability to throw off the effects of poison and prevent further auto-intoxication. The president retired at midnight Sunday, the earliest hour he has sought rest since his wife's condition became critical."

High School Boys In Training Class Lay Concrete Walks

Vocational Training Students in Charge of F. E. Allen Get Experience in Subject.

"We've been working in the trenches all day long, and all the time we've been."

According to the words of the song, they were singing a song, but the class in vocational training of the Pendleton high school did not have any time to sing today. Instead they were busily engaged in the practical working of laying concrete on the sidewalk building job around Happy Canyon.

The morning class consisted of 14 boys in charge of F. E. Allen, instructor of vocational training under the Smith-Hughes Act, and this afternoon there were 13 boys who were at work with the rest of the class. Peterson who is doing the work on the sidewalk.

The boys laid forms, ran the mixer which mixed the concrete, filled the forms, helped in tamping and finishing and then removed the forms. There is also some excavating to be done, so the high school boys will be in the trenches before their work is done. The work being done today is a part of the program of activity of the class. Besides the concrete work, carpentry and plumbing will also be done by the class before the year is over.

"We appreciate the courtesy of Mr. Peterson in permitting the boys to be on the job," Mr. Allen said this morning. By telling the boys work, Mr. Peterson is not gaining any advantage himself because he must have the rest of his force on the job just the same, but it is a big advantage to the members of the class to be able to have the opportunity to do actual concrete work."

The morning class included the following students: C. Bickelbille, L. Bittner, G. Buffington, V. Elder, G. Underhill, G. Harvey, A. Lorenzen, M. Mohr, W. Newton, E. Roehle, R. Richardson, E. Voerman and B. Walter. This afternoon the members of the class at work included G. Buffington, K. Elder, N. English, C. English, W. Holmgren, C. Isaac, V. Johnson, E. Kramer, J. Morton, J. Roy, D. Temple, C. Tenney and O. Williams.

INJUNCTION NOT TO BE MODIFIED BY GOVERNMENT

Unions' Motion to Dismiss Injunction Refused by Federal Judge Wilkerson.

DAUGHERTY CHARGED OF MISREPRESENTATION

Big Four Attending Hearing But Will Take no Active Part in Conduct of Case.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—(U. P.)—Assistant Attorney General Blackburn Esterlin opened the case for the government asking that the injunction be made permanent. Donald Richberg, shopmen's counsel, followed with a bitter attack against the attorney general, claiming a misrepresentation of facts and that Daugherty was aiding the open shop. Richberg declared the shopmen were under no legal obligation to obey the decision of the labor board.

Guard Evidence

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—(U. P.)—The fight to make the Daugherty injunction permanent opened in federal court here today. Indications were that the government would refuse to modify the demands of the original injunction. Federal agents are carefully guarding a carload of implements of destruction alleged to have been seized in all parts of the country.

Unions Lose Motion

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—(U. P.)—The government won the first skirmish in the injunction proceedings in the federal court here today. Judge Wilkerson refused the shopmen's counsel to present arguments on the first motion to dismiss the injunction. Bert Jewell was not in court but was attending a meeting of the shopmen's advisory committee considering proposals for separate peace. The Big Four Brotherhoods were represented by counsel but declared they would take no active part in the conduct of the case.

The court did not refuse to consider the arguments of Attorney Richberg, strikers' counsel. It said it would take the question under advisement and in

40 RAILROAD MEN ESCAPE DEATH AT UMATILLA WHEN BOMB FUSE IS DEFECTIVE

About 40 workers in the employ of the O.-W. R. & N. at Umatilla are alive today because a dynamite bomb planted under one of the Pullman cars in which the men live failed to explode when it was set Saturday night.

Two bombs were set, according to information held by the sheriff's office, but only one exploded. One was set under the Pullman, but the fuse was defective and it never exploded. The other one was thrown on the track. It exploded, but it had fallen under a rail, and the chief force of the explosion was downward.

The vibration was sufficient, however, to break many window glasses, and the town was shaken up. The property damage was slight. The identity of the man or men responsible for the work is a mystery which the officers have not succeeded in solving.

REPUBLICANS TO HOLD STATE CONVENTION IN PORTLAND SEPT. 26

Roy W. Ritner is Appointed as Member of Committee to Write Platform for Party.

As a result of a republican gathering held at Eugene Saturday a state convention is to be held in Portland September 26 for the purpose of adopting a platform or set of principles to govern the party in Oregon. Membership in the convention is to be limited to state and county officials of the republican faith, nominees for office, state and county organization officials and certain defeated candidates for governor.

If all attend it is the belief that there will be 200 present.

At the meeting Saturday Chairman Toole was authorized to name a platform committee to submit a set of principles to the convention. He appointed the following committee:

Bruce Dennis, state senator, chairman; L. L. Patterson, J. E. Bean, George A. White and J. D. Lee, who were candidates against Mr. Olcott in the primary; R. E. Farrell, B. L. Eddy, E. D. Cusick and Gus C. Moser, candidates for president of the state senate; K. K. Kuhl, Tom Kay, Denton Hardick and Herbert Gordon, candidates for speaker of the house of representatives; E. S. Day, who will be specialist on taxes; Laird W. Thompson, A. J. Johnson, George Neuner Jr., T. T. Bennett, Jay Upton and Roy Ritner. The following county chairmen were also placed in the committee: F. A. McCully, Enterprise, M. Elamurice, Condon; Bert Anderson, Medford, and W. A. Manning, Lakeview.

VIEW OF BIG PEAKS NOW UNUSUALLY GOOD

Because of the clear weather not only in Eastern Oregon and Washington but in the coast region as well there is now an unusual opportunity to get a good view of the snow clad mountains of the Cascades from the summit of Cabbage Hill.

Last evening the sun sank below the horizon at 6:25. Shortly before that time three peaks to the west and northwest gradually became visible to the naked eye. After supper the peaks stood out in bolder outline and were plainly visible for an hour.

The three peaks are Mt. Rainier, Mt. Adams and Mt. Hood, if calculations made by Lee Shannon, roadmaster are correct. Mr. Shannon used a compass and discovered that the middle peak is 26 degrees to the north and the most northerly peak 48 degrees north. That indicates their location in the state of Washington and identifies the most northerly peak as Mt. Rainier, Mt. Hood, of which only the top could be seen because of intervening high ground was identified through being almost due west. Mt. Rainier and Mt. Adams show up like large haystacks and seem very near. Mt. Adams being nearer seems the larger of the two peaks.

After sunset the Cold Springs reservoir could be seen, last evening and also the Columbia river.

The visibility of the peaks is attributed to the fact that the clear weather between the Cascades and the coast makes a condition under which the mountains become outlined against the setting sun in a manner seldom seen.

EXPECTED THAT ACTION WILL BE SPEEDILY KILLED

Representative Keller Filed Indictment of Seven Counts Against Attorney-General.

ACCUSED OF FAVORING 'WEALTHY CRIMINALS'

Resolution Referred to Judiciary Committee, Where it Will be Allowed to Die.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(U. P.)—Representative Keller attempting to impeach Daugherty filed an indictment of seven counts, and introduced a resolution demanding an investigation to report to the judiciary committee whether Daugherty be tried before the senate sitting as a high court of impeachment. It is charged that Daugherty overrode the constitution, degraded his office and abused his authority. It was also accused that Daugherty was favoring "wealthy criminals."

Republican Leader Mondell moved that Kellers impeachment resolution be deferred to the house judiciary committee, where it is believed it would be speedily killed or allowed to die by the administration majority.

Wheat—There was very little in the way of news that was at all encouraging to holders, and the display of strength early in the session proved of short duration? Nevertheless the action of the market, as for some time past suggested that the fundamentally generally accepted as bearish have been quite well discounted. A considerable part of today's selling was thought to be in the nature of closing spreads between Chicago and Winnipeg. Advances from the seaboard regarding export trend were very disappointing, with practically no business confirmed up to the close. Winnipeg cash was decidedly weak early in the day due to increasing pressure and a slow demand, but later in the day exporters came in the market at 3 cents over October for number one northern. The local cash market was firm relative to the futures, while outside markets were barely steady. The unanimity of the bearish sentiment and the fact that the market does not show an adverse development makes us feel that a temporary upturn is likely to take place from the present level.

TRUCK SHOTS MAN AS HE JUMPS OFF IT

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—When James McGlynn, of Brooklyn, jumped off the rear of an army truck in Fifty-eighth street, between First and Second avenues, Brooklyn, he was shot in the ankle by a bullet from a cartridge which was lying in the street and exploded as it was run over by a rear wheel of the truck, just as the man jumped off. The injury was slight.
